Services:

Music Booking and Playlist Compilation

"I planned a low key celebration for my 70th birthday and wanted discreet live music but had no idea of how to go about sourcing/booking a band. So I contacted Little but Fierce Events where Anna booked the fabulous Kerry's Jazz Trio. Having understood my music tastes she also helped me compile a Spotify playlist as background music between sets. I have no hesitation in recommending LbF to anyone planning a special event; Anna is a star - thank you!"

Music Booking - Wedding

My partner and I decided, fairly last minute, that we wanted a musician to play at our wedding ceremony. We messaged LbF and the communication we received from Anna couldn't have been better. She asked us exactly what we wanted and made sure that she met our exact requirements. Anna emailed us a detailed PowerPoint of potential musicians, and it is thanks to Little But Fierce that we were able to select our harpist who was absolutely fantastic and helped make our wedding day even more special.

‘Nearly there’ Advice Call

“My partner and I booked an advice call with Anna just as my brain was about to go into full panic mode with all the little things that we've not done yet. Anna was so helpful in just talking us through the day step by step and prompted us to rethink how certain parts would work that we hadn't really given much thought to. Very quickly after our call, she sent us a really helpful summary of all the ideas we talked through and the advice she'd given us, which has been really helpful to refer back to. Could not recommend Anna enough for anyone who just needs to take a step back and remember to enjoy the process. Thank you!!”

Review

Service:

Party Planning

"I was planning a big surprise birthday party for my husband, I wanted a fun but laid back environment and his favourite music. Anna totally understood the brief. She organised the music, which really brought the party to life, managed the logistics and also thought of lots of little details we could add too. Without her support when planning the party, I would have gone into a meltdown. She eased the stress for me immensely and I would thoroughly recommend her as a friendly, caring and thoughtful person to work with."
